

Lent is the traditional time to review our relationships with God.

TRUE GUILT is when we don't follow our own inner truth, what we know in conscience to be God's will for us. Instead, we do something that we can see is clearly 'wrong'. True guilt is reasonable and appropriate and healthy. And with true guilt we can confess, accept forgiveness, and then move on. It's a mature response that helps us to grow in grace.

FALSE GUILT is triggered by an outside demand that we could not or did not meet. It is about failing to live up to someone else's - family, society's - expectations and pressures. False Guilt is unreasonable, inappropriate and unhealthy. And when we feel this false guilt, no encouragement from God that we are loved and forgiven can ease our troubled souls. Because essentially, false guilt is about fear for ourselves, not about God's love and care for us.

John 12:47 "If anyone hears my words but does not keep them, I do not judge that person. For I did not come to judge the world, but to save the world."
